With this feature, players take the field immersed in the emotion of the match, experience all kinds of movements and actions of the players while they play, and take advantage of their surroundings to create a new style of football. In FIFA 22, this new technology helps the player create a more realistic ball speed and make the ball travel faster through the air. Supervisors and users can adjust the speed of the ball by means of sliders in the timing system. From direct goals to free kicks, players can implement their favorite free kicks with greater accuracy than before. More than a handful of the new gameplay characteristics in FIFA 22 are inspired by live football matches, or are a direct result of listening to fans who want a more realistic football experience. For example, in-game effects including smoke, firework effects, sound and visual cues have been implemented so that players feel like they're playing a real match. There are thousands of new animations based on real-life data from the players, while the ball also reflects the new movement and animations of the ball. For the first time, players will go through pre-match warm-ups and warm-up exercises in FIFA 22, and players will receive specific instructions from their teammates and their coaches. A new 3D camera will be used to improve and enhance 3D passing gameplay features. The goalkeepers will be able to use an improved goalkeeper AI and dribbling system. A new goalkeeper AI will detect and adjust to players when performing diving saves. "By making minute changes in the ball's properties, HyperMotion Technology allows us to create many of the little details that you feel in real matches, while letting us recreate the experience of live football," said Jeff Yaworski, Technical Director of FIFA. "It's been great to read the comments from our fans, and while we're not listening to them directly, their feedback definitely inspired us to make this year's game as realistic as we could, and it's been fantastic to see the results." PC players can download the FIFA 22 beta demo and try the new technology in action from March 19 to April 2. PC users can experience FIFA 22's HyperMotion Technology even more by downloading the "HyperMotion Technology" add-on demo pack for single-player or multiplayer matches. PC

FIFA® (For Always In The Future) is a top-selling videogame franchise enjoyed by millions of fans around the world. It delivers an authentic football experience with deep gameplay innovations, realistic Football Intelligence and stunning visuals. FFTM offers unprecedented freedom in terms of player customization and a deeper overall experience than ever before. FIFA Ultimate Team™ is the most dynamic and social way to build and manage a football team of the ultimate FIFA players. The UEFA EURO 2016™ Edition of the game features a detailed 2016 calendar, presenting events and competition details in-game. The most comprehensive and authentic soccer videogame experience is brought to life with the addition of all-new Player Touch™ controls. Together as a collective In Ultimate Team, players assume the roles of teammates, striving to be the ultimate FIFA squad. To become the best squad in the game, the players must compete as one team using their collective strength, drafting and training five players in one game, based on their attributes and rankings. They can then compete in friendly online matches against friends. During the match, every action, movement and play is tracked and commented on by FIFA Analysts. The results enable players to monitor and analyze the opposition team in real time and develop their strategy against specific opponents. The calendar is packed with realistic events and details and with everything on the line, experience the best-ever competitions and live the greatest matches. Players make the game Powered by Football™, EA SPORTS Fifa 22 Activation Code introduces new and improved gameplay to deliver a more realistic and authentic football experience. The new Player Impact Engine – the heart of the game – identifies every impact on the ball, capturing subtle changes in the flight of the ball and a player's overall interactions on the pitch. FIFA 22 introduces innovative Player Touch controls that allow players to make accurate, authentic passing and shooting decisions in-game. With the most frequent, responsive and intuitive ball control in the FIFA franchise, players are able to exploit their speed, skill and movement intelligently. In particular, Player Touch controls let players control the ball directly in their hands, even while they are in full motion. They'll never miss a pass or a shot, will never waste a header or throw-in, and more often than ever before, they'll score. FIFA 22 introduces new passing options to maximize players' skill and coordination. These include "QR" passes, with which players can accurately dictate the ball's trajectory. bc9d6d6daa breaking commentary technology delivers truly dynamic reactions from players and broadcasters. This enables you to play as if you were sitting right alongside the commentators.

- Beautiful Football Graphical Customisation. Create the perfect kit, colours and team profile using the FIFA Global Customisation Engine. Use the unique kit provider to create the perfect football shirt.
- New Control Depth and Sensitivity. Sensitivity to small movements are much improved thanks to the advanced ball control system for every surface.
- Pace of Play which adapts based on skill level of players. Fuelling gameplay. Pitch recognition now understands the speed of play across the various levels of competition. It adapts to the speed of play needed to play on different surfaces using teams of world-class experts who set the pace for FIFA 22 AI.
- Advanced Off Ball Behaviour. New Tactical Awareness system opens up a wide range of new tactical situations for you to be part of. This enables the action to happen around you and to the ball as you use your free controls. Set your team up in free-flow attacking and defensive sequences enabling natural footballing footwork to emerge.
- Improved Defensive Behaviour. Individual Defensive Intelligence means AI defenders react intelligently to challenge, press, recover and pass opposition players. Defenders follow the ball and are more likely to dispossess opponents.
- Re-designed Player Kicking Mechanics. Improved ball control where players can take up space in much more realistic ways and regain the ball more quickly. The game automatically initiates improved controlling techniques to pass back to goalkeepers.
- New Speed Camera. New to FIFA, the first game to feature a true speed camera. Face up to the game on the pitch and savour new passing, shooting, and striking options.
- Improved Tactical Awareness. As in real life, players respond differently to the same situation - but in different worlds, they are reacting according to the style of play of each. An artificial intelligence system now understands the style of play required in each game environment to enable more fluid football.
