Jun 18, 2020 · Buy Visual C++ XE3 Portable 2020 with 8GB +Q: How to get the original file name from a returned string? So, I have an application where my user can upload a file, which is then read by another application to work on the contents of the file. I store the location of the file in a database. The user can then click on a "Update File Info" button on another form (this form is called 'Details') and that file info from the database is displayed. The problem is, how do I get that original file name back into the Details form? Here is what I've tried so far. Return the file 04aeff104c
